Governor Challenges Senator McCreary For Joint Discussion.

THE GOVERNOR'S LETTER.

"Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 21, 1906.
"Hon. James B. McCreary, Richmond, Ky.

"My Dear Sir:—I notice in the papers of this morning what purports to be an authorized statement from your speech at Mt. Sterling yesterday, in which you publicly ask me a question. This published extract bears the evidences of authenticity, and for that reason I address you this letter. I quote a part of what you say:

"I have never asked or received pecuniary aid from the whisky interests in the present race for United States Senator, nor in any race I have made for office in the past. I would like to know if Governor Beckham can say the same."

"You can rest assured that I shall cheerfully answer that or any other question which you may wish to propound to me in this campaign in a prompt and straightforward manner, but I am strongly of the opinion that any such long range discussion about such matters through the newspapers would be unsatisfactory and that we could ask and answer such questions in a better way.

PROPOSED JOINT DEBATE.

"I therefore propose to you that if you wish me to answer this or any other question, and that you may have the opportunity of answering any question that I might ask you, we arrange for a series of joint discussions before the people of Kentucky at such places as you and I may agree upon. I am confident that with such an arrangement our positions upon the many important issues in this campaign could be more clearly and satisfactorily explained to the Democracy of Kentucky. I suggest, therefore, that either you or I, or a representative of each of us, shall meet and arrange for the details of such joint discussion, provided the proposition meets with your approval.

"With the assurances of great respect, I am

"Very truly yours,
"J. C. W. Beckham."

McCreary Accepts Governor Beckham's Offer To Debate Issues.

Senator James B. McCreary has accepted the challenge of Governor Beckham to a series of joint debates in their contest for the Senatorship.

Senator McCreary, in a letter written to the Governor says that he will be prepared to meet the Governor and arrange for such joint discussions as they may mutually agree upon.

The Senator says he desires that the people of the State be given "the fullest opportunity to become acquainted with the issues involved in the present campaign." Senator McCreary's letter is as follows:

"Richmond, Ky., Aug. 23, '06.

"Governor J. C. W. Beckham,

"Frankfort, Ky.

"Dear Sir:—Your letter of Aug. 21 was received this afternoon. You refer to my answer made in my speech at Mt. Sterling last Monday to a statement made by you in your speech at Lexington, Ky., which was as follows:

"I have never asked or received pecuniary aid from the whisky interests in the present race for United States Senator nor in any race I have made for office in the past. I would like to know if Governor Beckham can say the same?"

"You say that you can cheerfully answer that question and suggest that in order that we may have an opportunity of answering any questions that might be asked, we arrange for a series of joint discussions at such places as you and I may agree.

"It will afford me pleasure to meet you at any convenient time or place for the purpose of arranging such joint discussions as we may agree upon. I desire that the people of Kentucky shall have the fullest opportunity to become acquainted with the issues involved in the present campaign.

"Respectfully,

"James B. McCreary."

GOVERNOR BECKHAM.

Governor Beckham has taken a position on the side of Law and Order that no other Governor of Kentucky has heretofore done, and every law-abiding citizen, every church member and every good woman who loves the welfare of their Old Kentucky Home should seek an opportunity to give him a hearty welcome. One thing that has always weakened the side of morality and the churches with public officials is that they do not rally to the support of officials who take up their cause, while on the other hand the opposition will rally almost as a unit to defeat any candidate who takes a position against them. If the Christian people of this country would wake up to a realization of this fact and would give our public officials to understand that if they stand for law and order, morality and Christianity in their public life that they as a unit are with them and will support them on election day, but if they do not stand for these grand principles that they as a unit will stand against them and will not support them on election day. If this play was adopted by the Christian people of our country it would only be a short time until we could have pure and God-like men in all public places and it would be an incentive to our young men to live right and to be better men, but so long as some church members walk to the poles on election day and vote with the opposition to defeat good and pure Christian men, just so long will the agents of sin be abroad in the land. Governor Beckham has responded to the appeal of the ministry and the law-abiding citizens of the greatest city in our State and has given them his aid and support in putting on the lid in that city, knowing when he did it that he would array a powerful influence with money to burn, against him in his race for the United States Senate, but he did it because he felt that it was right and he did it without fear of punishment or hope of reward, and it is now up to the good people of this country to say whether or not they endorse his course. If they endorse law and order they should stand by him in this fight. The law-abiding citizens of our State and country should not forget the splendid achievement of our Governor in redeeming the fair name of our State and restoring law and order where chaos and revolution reigned at the time of his accession to office. They should not forget the remarkable and material development of the State since he assumed charge and the era of peace that has reigned during his administration. We thank God that peace is once more our heritage in Kentucky and that the blue sky looks down upon a united and happy people, but we should not forget that there are battles being waged today that do not scar the forehead but they are battles in which every true man should show himself to be a warrior, worthy the companionship of Governor Beckham. In these battles right living and right thinking should be our weapons waged in the interest of purer laws, better customs and a higher type of Christian civilization. It is an opportunity for the manifestation of these great principles in the present fight for United States Senator in Kentucky. Vote for Beckham and you will vote for these great and grand principles.—Madisonville Journal.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE TO CONTEST DECISION

Question to Be Fought Out on A Case to Come Up From Mt. Sterling.

If Case Is Lost, Amendment to Constitution Will Be Asked.

Following the action of County Judge A. A. Hazelrigg declaring the County Unit Law unconstitutional, President M. B. Adams, of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League issued a card to the temperance advocates of the State, advising them that the fight for the new law will be made throughout all the courts of the State. President Adams made a vigorous fight for the passage of the act before the Legislature, and received opinions from many of the most noted legal lights in the Senate at that time that it fully complied with every provision of the Constitution. His card is as follows:

To the temperance people of the State:

The president of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League desires to say that the question of the constitutionality of the County Unit Law will be fought out on a case that will come up from Mt. Sterling at once.

The County Unit Law forbids precinct elections to be held separately on the same day as an election for the entire city of which the precinct is a part. The temperance people of Mt. Sterling presented a petition in due form to the Judge of Montgomery county asking for an election for the city of Mt. Sterling as a whole. The saloon interests presented four petitions asking for four separate elections in the four precincts of Mt. Sterling on the same day as the city election. This the law distinctly forbids. But the County Judge held the County Unit Law unconstitutional and void and ordered the precinct elections as the saloon interests desired. This brings the issue squarely and it will be fought out from the Montgomery Circuit Court to the Court of Appeals. We are entirely confident of winning the case. We knew, of course, that the legal fight must come and are glad that it has come so soon and upon so well defined an issue. Should the case be lost, which we do not expect, our next move will be an amendment to the State Constitution. The ablest legal counsel will be employed to defend our law.

In the meantime, let the local fights go on with redoubled vigor as if this question had not been raised. Your legal rights will be taken care of and the contests can be pursued with the utmost confidence.

M. B. Adams, President, Kentucky Anti-Saloon League. [Judge Hazelrigg also ordered election at same time on petition presented by the temperance people. Ed.]

SPRING CATARRH

W. S. Lloyd Sells Hyomei Under Guarantee of Cure.

The changeable weather of Spring is directly responsible for the prevalence of catarrhal troubles in Mt. Sterling at the present time.

As a result, W. S. Lloyd has had a larger sale for Hyomei the past week than ever before in the years that he has handled this reliable treatment for the cure of catarrh.

If there is a single catarrhal germ in the system, Hyomei will search it out and absolutely destroy it, completely eradicating the trouble. The remedy has made so many cures among W. S. Lloyd's customers that he offers to pay for himself if it does not benefit even the worst case of catarrh.

The complete outfit costs only $1, consisting of an inhaler, medicine dropper, and bottle of Hyomei, while extra bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. There will not be even this small expense if Hyomei does not cure, as W. S. Lloyd will return your money. 7 & 9.

Fined For Violating Sunday Closing Law.

Alderman John Scott, of Lexington, was fined $50 and costs in the Police Court on the charge of violating the Sunday closing ordinance. The imposing of the fine is the second step taken by the city officials to punish Scott for the alleged offense. Thomas A. Combs revoked the old license owned by Scott and he was compelled to take out a new one in order to conduct his business. Neither Scott or his attorney appeared in court, so the judgment went by default. It has already cost him nearly $150, besides the attorney's fees.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce Judge H. Clay McKee as a candidate for Congress in the Tenth District, subject to the action of the Republican Party, in convention or otherwise.

For Congress.

F. A. HOPKINS,
of Floyd County.

RESULTS OF A "DRY" CITY.

FROM A SALOON KEEPER.

I sold wet goods for twenty-two years; I am now selling dry goods and I am much better pleased with my new occupation. From a moral standpoint I am quite sure the town is much better off than it was when I can get a dollar for a bottle of whisky.

S. D. GIBBONS.

Hodgenville, Ky., June 15, 1906.

TESTIMONY OF A PHYSICIAN.

Local opinion is good—good for all the people, good for their health and happiness. Some of these fellows who never did pay a doctor's bill pay them now. I am for local option teeth and toenails. W. L. Rodman, M. D.

Come nearer home and what do we find? Owingville citizens and business men will tell you that business in every department is better under local option than with the open saloon. Call up any business man you wish and our word for it business is better.

What about Morehead? Did she have a wholesale house during the open saloon period? (This wholesale grocery is worth more in dollars and cents to Morehead than all the saloons she ever had.)

What do the manufacturers of our great metropolis say? Listen! Before the "lid went on" and before Louisville had dry Sundays many of our men returned to work Monday with service and without a dollar in their pockets. Not so now. They have money all the week and are laying something aside.

Let better, work better, dress better, are happier and now the laboring man favors the closed saloon on Sundays.

As things are now in dry cities so will they be in Mt. Sterling after January 1st, 1907.

Think of it! Louisville is dry one day out of seven and everybody likes the results except the men who profit by the sale of intoxicants.

The fact that Louisville is dry one-seventh of the year, that results are satisfactory, are sufficient to refute all arguments of the saloonists.

HOW VOTERS TALK.

At the Shelby County Baptist Association, last week, the Moderator, Mr. John A. Middleton, after a resolution commending the action of Governor J. C. W. Beckham for his labors, assisting in carrying County Unit Bill and enforcing the Sunday laws had been offered said: "I am going to put the motion to adopt this resolution by a standing vote, and I trust you, my brethren, will vote today as you propose to vote the coming November. So many of us make pledges here and then go out and violate them. This is wrong. The vote was taken and was unanimous for the resolution. It really does seem that men propose to vote as they pledge themselves and as they should."

The man who charges political base because there exists in his party a machine organization truly has little regard for principles.

WHY THE COUNTY IS INTERESTED.

Country boys come to our city—they ought to. We want them. Mt. Sterling is the country's the same as it is ours and just the same as the county where they live is theirs, so it is ours. We are one in county and city and should be together on every elevating interest and likewise together in the opposition to everything hurtful and destructive to young manhood. The saloon's business is made successful by the people who have money, generally the boys with the small amounts make the great aggregates, and when the country boys' pockets are empty they have become the victims of the drink habit, are moral and physical wrecks, unfitted for heaven and mothers' and sisters' home. Yes, the country people are against the open saloon in Mt. Sterling because they love their boys, want others to regard them highly and are deeply interested in their eternal future.

YOU CANT'S.

It would seem that some business men have only the saloon keepers and saloon influence on their side, for the reasons some of them assign for not working for the overthrow of the saloon business in Mt. Sterling. Have these same men any customers who oppose the open saloon? Would it not be well for all men thus actuated to consult their ledgers, and see how the balance stands on the side of the saloon or on the side of local option?

THE CHILD'S HUNGER IS DUE TO MY HAND—SOME BANK ACCT.

A saloon man of high standing in his business while enroute to his bank where he keeps an account, in answer to the question, Where did you get that large roll of money, said: "Many a child goes hungry that I may have this dough."

And yet the people would make children hungry by giving men the liberty to do saloon business.

The agreement entered into between the two candidates for United States Senator is really commendable. It precludes any reasonable grounds for misunderstanding or misrepresentation. The people have a right to know the methods and policies of the candidates, and to know them correctly. There is no reason for roughness or excitement that would produce bitterness. Let the leaders speak, they are both gentlemen and can do the party no harm. We must know what they stand for.

A friend of Senator McCracken says: "Governor Beckham is charging that the whiskey ring has lined up behind Mr. McCracken and that they are part and parcel of his machine. We wish McCracken would deny the charge and demand the proof. He owes it to his friends."

This year's crops alone would pay for half the railroads of the United States.—(From Collier's, Aug. 25th.)

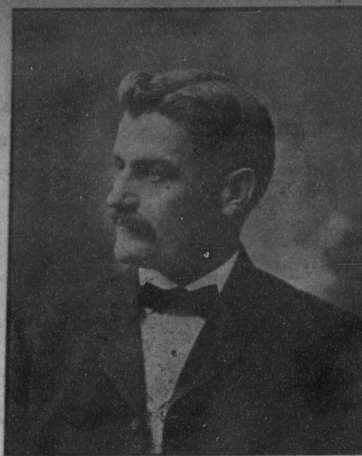

Wonder if the Republican party won't claim the credit over Providence? It could be like that asumptive sect.

At the Preachers' Conference in Louisville Governor Beckham was endorsed for helping to pass the County Unit Bill and for putting the "lid" on in Louisville. As the good people endorse so will they vote.

Capt. F. C. Riddell has the contract for the building of the residence of J. Will Clay.

H. W. BOSWORTH, JR., FOR STATE AUDITOR.

When the people give an unreserved expression of their choice of a man for a position of public trust, the newspapers are bold in praising him, the public need speculate no further. Since the people first began to make demands on Mr. Bosworth the curtain was removed, the lights were turned on and he was found to stand on a platform acceptable to all men.

A pronounced Democrat, a party worker with a heroic unsparing by the fathers preceding the ante-bellum period. The positions entrusted to him have had his personal attention and no man of reputation has had aught but words of praise for him either in office or out of it. To be an applicant for the office he now seeks was not of his own volition. The people whom he had served as Sheriff and as State Treasurer had observed him as a faithful and competent official, they knew his metal, his regard of honor, his industry and accuracy, and hence their demands that he serve Kentucky as her Auditor. To these demands he has acceded and now come the letters from persons pledging their support. That he will be nominated there is hardly a single doubt. Some have gone so far as to predict he will not lose a County in the State.

He has been a sober man in favor of enforcing the Sunday laws, a temperance man, in sympathy with temperance promoters.

Of him the Somerset Journal says:

"Here is a man among men—Kentuckian of Kentuckians—gentleman of education, high ideals, true courage, true integrity. Measured by the true Democratic standard he is honest, faithful, competent."

Mr. Bosworth is now filling, in a most acceptable manner, the office of State Treasurer, the first State office which he has ever held. Prior to his election to this office he was Sheriff of Fayette county, which he filled with such satisfaction to his constituents that when he offered himself for a State office they gave him 3,500 out of the 3,540 votes cast in the primary, and in November he hopes to have the forty who opposed him for Treasurer.

Having served the people well as Treasurer and having announced for another race the party what is expected him, giving him the nomination for State Auditor. Free from the party factions, men admire him and will give to him their support. These words from the Big Sandy News we heartily endorse:

"Mr. Bosworth is a clean official, and worthy of the confidence of the people of Kentucky. He is not the tool of any man or set of men. His nomination will add strength to the ticket, no matter who the other nominees may be."

The Carroll News has had a lot to say in expressions of praise and esteem for Mr. Bosworth. He is not the tool of any man or set of men. He is single to his success, can not but see in Mr. Bosworth those qualities which attract men of every class, regardless of party lines, and can not fail to realize that the nomination of such a man means Democratic victory in 1907.

When talking to Mr. Bosworth we said: "You don't apprehend much danger in Carroll county, do you?" The overwhelming majority Carroll gave you in 1903 ought to assure you along that line."

"Ah," said he, "Smith, there are a few that I missed, and I want to go gunning after those fellows."

We have heard it said that no man is a gentleman to his valet, but this is not true of Henry Bosworth. The closer you get to him, the more infinitely you know him, the better you love him. He is a common fellow—he is one of the common people. He has a heart that feels for his fellow man. "Faith, hope and charity, but the greatest of these is charity." Henry Bosworth's heart beats responsive to every want of his fellow man. He never found a man in trouble that he did not relieve him, if in his power. No man ever asked help of him and was refused. This was Henry Bosworth long before he was Sheriff of Fayette county or Treasurer of the State of Kentucky, for before children had become even a dream. He loves his fellow man. He can't help it—it's born in him. He is a typical Kentuckian, hospitable to a fault, brave to recklessness and gentle as a woman.

"But it is unnecessary for us to say all these things to the Democracy of Carroll. The uncle whose name he proudly wears spent a long and useful life among us, and left as a heritage to his children a name for honesty, purity of life and faithfulness in the performance of duty above and beyond all criticism, and of such stock is Henry Bosworth a worthy descendant. It is not strange that a man like this is willing to leave it to the common people to say whether he shall continue to represent them? We are not a prophet nor the son of one, but we do not feel we need to be gifted with prophetic vision to foretell the result."

The people of Montgomery county will remember his uncle, Felix Bosworth, a man of truth, honor, right, honesty, a man for God, a typical neighbor and friend who knew his right and did not fear to declare it and as it was of our lamented dead, so it is of Henry M. Bosworth, who the people will delight to honor.

Tenth District Republican Convention.

On the fourth ballot at the Republican Convention at Pikeville Hon. J. W. Langley of the county of Floyd received the Republican nomination for Congress, other candidates withdrawing giving him a clear field and nominating him by acclamation.

Judge H. Clay McKee received 324 votes on the first ballot and on the fourth withdrew his name and moved that Langley be nominated by acclamation. Judge McKee's speech was one of the best of the Convention. The race for Congress is now made up and is two gentlemen from Floyd, Mr. Langley is a young man of gifts and attainments well known to the people of the district, having been before them before.

Change of Base.

It is given out that Judge J. Wise, Hagan County Attorney of Breathitt and editor of the Breathitt County News, will be for J. W. Langley for Congress, and County Superintendent of Schools of Breathitt county announces that he has withdrawn from the present Democratic party. Well?

Important.

The County Judge of McCracken county decides that permit must be obtained from County Judge before children under sixteen years of age will be allowed to work at any trade, and children's parents must show that such work is their only means of support.

Cincinnati's Big Fall Festival Inaugurated.

And Thousands Are Traveling to The Ohio Metropolis.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 29.—All roads now lead to Cincinnati.

The Fall Festival, which has just opened so gloriously here, is the first big Exposition since the late St. Louis World's Fair. It is this city's fifth and finest.

The magnificent permanent buildings dedicated to exp. exhibitors during the busy days of autumn, and the industrial shows are crowded with exhibits of note, while "The Circle" in Washington Park, connected with Main Hall by a bridge across Elm street, is a composite "Pike" and "Midway" brought right up to date.

Thousands of strangers have already planned to visit Cincinnati during the days of her autumn glory, and the invitation is sent broadcast, assuring a welcome as delightfully warm as the breath of an Indian summer day.

Cincinnati's best business blood is behind its fifth of a series of autumn festivals given "for the glory and honor of Cincinnati." The fame of the Queen City's hospitality extends beyond Uncle Sam's domain, and she has put on her best bib and tucker to entertain throngs of visitors.

The first American production of "The Blue Moon"—a musical spectacle transplanted by the Shuberts from London—proved an event of tremendous theatrical performance. It was staged in Music Hall through the courtesy of Heacock Opera House Company, of Cincinnati, O., managers of the Lyric Theater.

Pretty girls, catchy music, gorgeous scenery, magnificent costumes and bright comedy make up a stage picture of wondrous worth. "The Blue Moon" runs all month and will make a new amusement record for Cincinnati.

"Fighting the Flames" occupies a whole city block on the banks of the canal back of the Exposition buildings. Realistic exhibitions of fire-fighting, ladder scaling, life-net jumping, rescue work and quick coupling stir all the red blood in one's veins.

One of the greatest tragedies in the Nation's history is recalled in "The Johnstown Flood," which is reproduced with wonderful electrical effects. Jim Key, the educated horse, has been added to the great roster of attractions in "The Circle." "In the Shadow of the Cross" is a new illusion of the Christ. The Daughters of the Servant Light, and their big tooth is the accepted headquarters of the Southern hosts.

The Fall Festival is responsible for one wonderful revival. There is tremendous travel by river, for the steamboat lines have made great concessions in the way of round trips at rates lower than were ever dreamed of before. Railroads are also doing their share in the matter of excursion rates.

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

HAZEL GREEN ACADEMY.

This well-known school of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, located at Hazel Green, Ky., will open September 11. An addition is being built to the Sarah K. Yanney Home for Girls, and a new water tank erected with a pumping engine that will insure an ample supply of water for all purposes. Other improvements are in contemplation that will add to the comfort and convenience of the pupils of the school.

The Academy will be in charge of H. J. Dorthick, A. B., whose experience and ability are well-known to the friends of the school. He will have as members of the school faculty, M. O. Carter, A. B., of Hiram College, Hiram, Ohio, who has had six years' experience as a teacher, and who last year proved his ability as Secretary and Treasurer of the faculty of Hazel Green Academy; Miss Edie King, graduate of Hamilton College, Lexington, Ky., who has had ten years' experience as a teacher, and needs no commendation to the friends of the school; Miss Jeannette Gridley, graduate of Michigan University, and well-known in Hazel Green; Prof. Patton, a graduate of Bowling Green Business College, who has already taught in the Business Department for two years, will again take charge of the same department, and Miss Floretta M. South, who has the highest recommendations for her special work in music, will have charge of this department. This faculty will be enlarged as the needs of the school demand.

Quick Service.

The course of study has been revised, the school year divided into three terms to better accommodate the needs of the students and the tuition placed at the most reasonable figure of $5.00 a term. Write the Principal, Prof. H. J. Dorthick, for catalogue and full particulars.

The Christian Woman's Board of Missions will spare no effort to make Hazel Green Academy a first class school, with pure Christian influences. The teachers will live on the school campus, and in the dormitories with the students, and will try to make every influence of the school such as should surround young people who expect to make the best of life's opportunities.

SKILL SHOWN BY CONVICTS

Really Beautiful Works of Art Made by Prisoners in Their Idle Hours.

The convict whose idle hours are the bitterest of his term of imprisonment must kill time clandestinely unless the governor or the chaplain is willing to take a very broad view of the regulations in order to help him. Some times a skilled workman of an industrious turn of mind will appeal to one or other of these gentlemen to find him some employment for his spare time. Thus a clever wood carver mentioned in a recent report of the prison commissioners was able to present to the chapel a really magnificent carved eagle lectern in oak, entirely the work of his own hands, and done in hours which might otherwise have been spent in solitude and idleness.

An ex-governor of a great prison has in his possession a remarkably handsome sideboard in walnut, which was made for him by a convict of a prison where he was governor for some ten years. The man appealed to him for some means of killing time, and knowing the man to be a cabinet maker, he provided him with wood and tools. The sideboard was the surprising result, and in consequence of it, when the convict took his discharge, there was a substantial present from the governor to help him in making a fresh start in life. Moreover, while thus employed his hand was not losing its cunning nor his mind lying fallow, and his chances of leading an honest life thereafter were there fore greatly increased.

On the other hand, prisoners have been known to kill time secretly by such melancholy devices as making mats and baskets of straw taken from their beds, rather than simply sit and brood. Others have set themselves to count the number of times certain letters occur in the Bible, with a copy of which every convict is provided, and it is quite a common practice for prisoners to learn whole chapters, gospels and epistles by heart. A certain hardened character once committed to memory the whole of the Old Testament, but the moral good it did him could not have been very great for two days after his release he committed a burglary, for which he was sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

OPEN PUBLISHER THE BEST

When the only a medicine, and through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and honestly publishing broadcast a list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search light of investigation turned upon his formula, and that it will bear the fullest scrutiny of the most expert and experienced of the Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine. It is the only medicine of its kind, and the only one which is not put up by such open and honest purveyors.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made of wholly from native, American medicinal roots, that it contains no poisons or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple refined glycerine of sugar strength being used, instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plants.

It is a fact that it is the only medicine for women's peculiar diseases, sold by druggists, that does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, which is in the long run so harmful to women's delicate, nervous system. No other medicine is so perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by enabling the entire family to take it, and besides it enhances the curative effect of the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription."

Some of the ablest medical writers and teachers endorse this medicine, and praise all the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is composed.

Commending them for the cure of the very same diseases for which this world-famed medicine is advised. No other medicine for women has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. If interested, send name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his little book of extracts from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicine are made of. It's free for the asking.

Push and Publicity.

Push has made American men what they are today. It is the great American spirit condensed into a monosyllable. Hand in hand with push goes publicity as a motive power toward success. The two are so close that it is difficult to know them apart. The man of push is a champion of publicity. If he has a good thing he wishes the public to know about it. If he has goods to sell there must be push and publicity if he would convert those goods into income. What is the use of having the goods to sell if no one knows of them? How are the buyers to be found? Push and publicity will provide the articles to be sold and the persons to buy them. Push and publicity are the antidotes of stagnation and starvation.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Old Yeeemico Church.

The two hundredth anniversary of the old Yeeemico church in Virginia has just been celebrated. The mother of George Washington attended this church when she was a girl. So did Richard and Henry Lee, who were the ancestors of the great Lees of Virginia. John Bushrod was a member of the vestry and Daniel McCarthy, one speaker of the house of burgesses, is buried there.

Considering its age, the church is in very good condition. A movement has been started by Rev. Mr. Tyler, archdeacon of Virginia, for the raising of an endowment fund to be used toward its preservation.

Langley Leads Tenth District Republicans.

At Pikeville, Ky., on Wednesday John W. Langley, of Floyd county, was nominated for Congress from the Tenth District by the Republican convention. After four ballots had been taken, the opposing candidates began withdrawing their names, and all urged Langley's nomination.

Judge Beckner was elected chairman and Kelly Kash secretary. Judge O'Rear and J. B. Wilhoit made speeches.

In afternoon James Wallace, of Estill, H. Clay McKee, of Montgomery, and Allen N. Cicco, of Morgan, were placed in nomination. Resolutions endorsing Roosevelt, condemning the State administration, censuring the Governor for his judicial appointment in connection with the Breathitt county cases, praising the people of that county for their standing against corruption and endorsing the resolution to provide an amendment to the later-State Commerce law prohibiting sale of liquor in the State in violation of local laws, were adopted.

At night Judge A. J. Kirk, of Floyd county placed Langley in nomination.

At the end of the fourth ballot the vote stood, Langley 114, Wallace 28, McKee 19, Cicco 6 and Bowling 11. Judge McKee withdrew his name and cast Montgomery's 13 votes to Langley. This caused a wild burst of applause which was followed by an eloquent speech by Cicco withdrawing his name and casting the 11 votes of Morgan county for Langley, swelling his vote to 138. Following this the name of Wallace was withdrawn and Langley was nominated by acclamation.

Saloon Men Do Not Want Versailles Included in Election.

A petition has been filed in the Woodford Circuit Court by the saloon men and twenty-five other citizens of Versailles asking for a writ of mandamus compelling Judge Wilhoit, of the County Court, to order a separate local option election for the city of Versailles. Judge Wilhoit recently, on petition of over 25 per cent. of the legal voters of the city and county, ordered a local option election in the whole county, on September 20.

As the regular term of the Woodford Circuit Court does not convene until October and Judge Stout is absent from the State, the petitioners for a writ of mandamus will be heard before Judge Peake, at Shelbyville. The case will then probably be taken to the Court of Appeals.

Lectures By Judge Ed. C. O'Rear

Judge Ed. C. O'Rear, of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, has accepted an invitation to deliver a course of lectures during the coming winter before the classes of the College of Law of Kentucky University at Lexington. His subject will be County Organization, Administration, and Officers. Judge O'Rear delivered a very able and most acceptable address recently upon a similar topic before the County Attorneys' Association, and his utterances upon this subject will be of the greatest possible interest and value, not only to students, but to judges, lawyers, officers, and all who are interested in good government as well.

Mr. Garrett Sullivan has left in our office two very large stock beets weighing ten pounds. They are fine for milk feed.

DEATHS

Mrs. R. D. Hunter died at her home in Clark county on Friday night of incipient paralysis.

A cablegram from Rev. Everett Gill, former pastor of the Mt. Sterling Baptist Church, who is now at Rome, Italy, announces the death of his little eight-year old daughter, Geraldine. We extend sympathy to our former pastor and his dear wife.

Died

At her home on Sycamore street, this city, Mrs. Druzila Rorne Lyle, widow of W. H. Lyle, died Sunday morning, August 26th, of general debility, aged 78 years. Mrs. Lyle had been a widow for 24 years and a resident of this city for 25 years. During her widowhood her son Bush Lyle lived with her until his death and her daughter, Miss Anna, was her constant companion. From childhood she had been a member of the Methodist Church. Funeral service was conducted at the home Tuesday morning by pastor H. G. Turner. Burial in Macphail, her grandparents acting as pallbearers. Mrs. Lyle was unassuming in character, humble, kind, appreciative, with a heart always in sympathy with the unfortunate and ready by word and hand to comfort and assist. She was a good christian woman and has entered upon her reward.

Her daughter, Miss Anna, thus left alone has the sympathy of her hosts of friends.

County Convention of Sunday Schools of Christian Church

On Tuesday, Aug. 21, there was a mass meeting of the Montgomery County Sunday Schools of the Christian Church at Peyton's Lick. The object was to effect a county organization. R. M. Hopkins, State Evangelist, was manager. Coleman Templeman, of Nicholas, who is much interested in the work was asked to preside and make a speech. Other speakers in the forenoon were R. M. Hopkins, B. W. Trimble, Clifton Previtt, of Bethlehem, and Rev. R. N. Simpson, of Lexington.

Just before adjournment a severe rain came. Seats had been prepared under the oak trees. There was a scattering. Most of the people found shelter in school houses, church, buggies etc., but about 20 sought protection under the trees, some with, some without umbrellas. There was rain, much rain, rain in sheets.

Later those in charge of dinner began to open boxes and baskets and to put on tables. Before they had progressed far the storm came again. Was so severe that no attempt was made to resume dinner. The neighbors had been very generous in supplying substantial and delicacies, much of which was not served. The writer who had been caught by the first storm took refuge during the next in a buggy where he had a partial lunch.

AFTERNOON

During the continuance of the rain the program was resumed in the church and heard by those who had crowded in standing or sitting on floor, pulpit, or a few seats.

Miss Ida Delaney of Bethlehem, read paper "How to reach Children in Christless Homes." Speeches were made by G. D. Wyatt, pastor of the congregation, J. T. Highland, followed with a recitation by Miss Nannie Jones. The Misses Clarke on mandolin and guitar gave sweet music.

The audience was orderly and attentive, the singing spirited. The attendance was 450 to 500.

Mr. Cliff Prewitz said he could not speak; the audience knew that he is mistaken about that.

OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR:
President, R. W. Trimble, Mt. Sterling, V. Pres., G. C. Montjoy. The meeting next year will be held at Corinth Church.

Hazel Green Academy opens Sept. 11th (not on 17th).

Cincinnati, Ohio.

Quality Did It!

The fact that SCHNAPPS is so widely imitated only proves that it is the best chew—the standard flat plug. Other plugs are made to imitate the size and shape and color of SCHNAPPS—other tags are made to look like SCHNAPPS tags—yet there are more pounds of SCHNAPPS chewed annually than all other similar tobaccos.

SCHNAPPS is made of only choice selections of well matured, thoroughly cured leaf, and in factories as clean as the cleanest kitchen, situated in the very heart of the greatest chewing tobacco growing country, by men of life-long experience in tobacco manufacturing, and who have directed the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company since 1875. SCHNAPPS has the pleasing, appetizing aroma which created and popularized the fondness for chewing. Expert tests prove that it requires and takes a smaller amount of sweetening than any other kind—and has a wholesome, stimulating and satisfying effect on chewers.

Internal revenue statistics show that SCHNAPPS and other of the Reynolds brands won enough chewers in one fiscal year to make a net gain of six and a quarter million pounds, or one-third of the entire increased consumption in the United States on chewing and smoking tobacco. Be sure the letters on the tag and under the tag spell S-C-H-N-A-P-P-S, and you will have the genuine.

WHY SO WEAK?

Kidney Troubles May be Sapping Your Life Away. Mt. Sterling People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, head-ache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, look to the kidneys for the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Here is Mt. Sterling testimony to prove it: Samuel T. Greene, of Holt Ave., Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills were worth their weight in gold to me. That is my opinion and the following are my reasons. For a good many years I suffered with kidney trouble brought on I believe, by straining myself at heavy lifting. The dull aching across the small of my back and the sharp pains if I stooped or straightened, made life anything but pleasant to me. There was also a very annoying and distressing urinary difficulty particularly observable at night. I took all kinds of medicine supposed to be good for kidney trouble, and doctored a great deal, but without obtaining any noticeable benefit until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. The change the first box made in my condition was surprising and I continued the treatment by taking another, when all symptoms of disordered kidneys disappeared and I felt myself cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. 5c.

When Is a Man Dead?

Floresco claims to have brought back life to dogs whose hearts have stopped from 25 to 40 minutes. He applies electrodes directly to the heart, either on the outside or by needles to the inside of the ventricles. Danilewsky has started heart beats in a rabbit 24 hours after death and in the auricles three days after death. This he accomplished by perfusion of the heart by Locke's solution. Inhibition of this heart action can be brought about by applying electrodes at the root of the aorta. Locke and Rosenheim perfused a heart that had been hanging in the laboratory for five days since its removal from the rabbit's body, and caused it to give beats of considerable magnitude. Howell, of Johns Hopkins, concludes from his experiments that inhibition of the heart depends on the presence of diffusible potassium compounds in the heart tissue, and that vagus impulses act indirectly by increasing the amount of potassium compounds of this character.

From the physiological standpoint, therefore, it looks as if the day may come when death will be cheated of its prey, and the heart forced to take up again the work that it has laid down.—North American Journal of Homoeopathy.

Head Ache Sometimes?

If so, it will interest you to know that it can be stopped with Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills; and without any bad after-effects, and this without danger of forming a drug habit or having your stomach disturbed. They positively contain no opium, morphine, cocaine, chloral, ether or chloroform in any form. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain, and leave only a sense of relief. The reason for this is explained by the fact that headache comes from tired, irritable, turbulent, over-taxed brain nerves. Anti-Pain Pills soothe and strengthen these nerves, thus removing the cause. They are harmless when taken as directed.

"We use Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for the cure of headache, and we think that there is nothing that will cure them as fast as these pills. I am of a nervous temperament, and occasionally have spells when my nerves seem to be completely exhausted, and I tremble all over and cannot contain myself. At these times I always take the Anti-Pain Pills, and they quiet me right away. It is remarkable what a soothing effect they have upon the nerves."

Mrs. J. R. Kable, Detroit, Mich. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by every druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

His Timely Automobile.

BY FRANK H. MELGON.

(Copyright, 1906, by Daily Story Pub. Co.) Miss Helen Spalter sat alone in the great farm house, which was her childhood's and her girlhood's home. There Helen had blossomed from a pale, anemic girl to a young lady of astonishing beauty. This was not only Robert Heulin's idea regarding her present state, but it was that of all others as well. It is really not often one sees a brunette with just the right degree of plumpness, and just the right ideas regarding clothes and hair dressing. The only thing not enviable about Helen at the time was her state of mind.

"What unlimited audacity Robert has!" she exclaimed to herself. "To think of his proposing to me while we were in the midst of a quarrel, and then to walk away with his head up in the air and his feet stamping down hard on the gravel, telling me he would never come back unless I sent for him! Of course he tried to be nice about it—that is Robert's way—and said he didn't want to force his attentions on me if they were undesirable. And the worst of it is that they aren't! Oh, he was so good and didn't get angry in the least, though I had lost all control of my temper. I—I guess"—here she choked down a sob—"I guess Robert is better off without a girl like me. I'm not half good enough for him. But I can't even, ever send for him!"

At this stage in her musings and self-recriminations, Helen was startled by a face at the window—the face of a man evidently of the lowest criminal type. His growth of bristly black beard was rough and uneven, and his eyes, small but piercing, were as ferocious as those of a treacherous swine. As the pane of glass next the window caught was shattered by a blow from a stick in the villain's hand, Helen, with a wild scream, ran from the room, closing and locking the door behind her.

With the readiness of the rural American lass to meet an emergency, she cast over in her mind the various expedients for driving the man away or securing help. The nearest house was that of Robert Heulin, a little over two miles away. The houses were connected by telephone through the central station at Rye, distant about four miles. Hastily she rang up Central, giving the call: "Two-ought-four, ring two." She heard the girl at the office make the connection and, while waiting with wildly beating heart for an answer, she heard sounds which indicated that the tramp was climbing in through the window. At last there came the welcome "Hello" through the telephone. It was the voice of Robert Heulin himself. Helen had somehow been certain that he would answer. Robert, she told herself, was always on hand to help her in any emergency. The afternoon's quarrel was forgotten. "Oh, Robert!" she cried, "come quick—there's a tramp broken into the house and I am all alone!"

"Inside of three minutes, little girl!" he answered, and she knew that he had not even stopped to hang up the receiver, for she heard him run from the telephone and open a door which did not shut again.

Helen had extinguished the light, turning the wick down into the kerosene so that the tramp was unable to relight it. She heard him swearing frightful oaths at the fruitless endeavor, and then he was audible feeling his way about with the aid of an occasional match, and trying several doors, which he burst open with more or less difficulty, only to find that she was not within. Vainly the girl at that moment longed for that five-chambered weapon which puts the weak on equal footing with the strong; she even remembered that Robert had often besought her to indulge in target practice, but that, unlike some girls, she had no inherent fear of weapons, yet had neglected to act on his advice. Robert's advice, she now thought, was always for the best!

The girl believed the three minutes must be almost up, but she knew well that no horse could make the distance in the given time, though it was down grade, the way. How, then, then that Robert intended to come? Was it possible, she wondered, with a quick inspiration, that Robert's long expected touring car had been delivered? He had learned to chauffeur the previous summer, while visiting his cousin in the city, so she thought it was not unlikely that the automobile had arrived and that Robert was on his way yet to render her aid. The thought lent her fresh courage.

The country girl is almost invariably a clever guesser, and Helen had hit upon the true solution of how Robert Heulin expected to reach the Spalter farm in three minutes. Even as she heard the intruder coming toward her door, cursing as he stumbled over a misplaced footstool, there was a grind of wheels on gravel, and he uttered an exclamation of dismay.

When the tramp had got downstairs, Helen's courage was still further revived and, fearful that her rescuer might be injured in an encounter with him, she ran to a front window in time to see Robert spring from the automobile.

"Where is he?" he cried. "Around that way," she called out, pointing to the side of the house opposite to that which the tramp had entered. She reckoned on his going as he had come, and in that case Robert would be in no danger. And so it happened that the ruffianly intruder escaped into the nearby woods scot-free.

To Robert Heulin the ride to the girl's aid had seemed hours. Through the night the heavy car had torn its way, the mud splashing many feet to either side; the way-side clump and the quarter mile of Lombardy poplars had loomed up for a brief moment, then had dropped behind. The mill bridge with shaking timbers, and the Four Forks road shot by, till ahead of him there had lain only the straight road, wavy and white in the glare of the head lamps, and at its end the Spalter farm house and the girl he loved—her life in danger.

Of course Helen opened the door and thanked Robert for his timely assistance. "I sent for you?" she hinted. He thought her remark ironical.

"Yes," he responded, "but I will go as soon as your folks return. You see, I would not take advantage of your sending for me in that way!"

"Why," she responded, with apparent innocence, and he never knew how much she then humbled her pride before the man she loved so well, "I was thinking of telephoning for you anyway!"

There are circumstances under which the only possible reply to such an explanation is a kiss.

Kentucky Fair Dates.

The following are the dates fixed for holding the Kentucky fairs for 1906 as far as reported:

Florence, Aug. 29—4 days.
Bradstown, Aug. 29—4 days.
Ewing, Aug. 30—3 days.
Elizabethtown, Sept. 4—3 days.
Paris, Sept. 4—5 days.
Monticello, Sept. 11—4 days.
Lexington, Sept. 17—6 days.
Falmouth, Sept. 26—5 days.

For a mild, easy action of the bowels, a single dose of Doan's Regulax is enough. Treatment cures habitual constipation. 25 cents a box. Ask your druggist for them. 3c.

A Good Movement.

The retail merchants of Shelbyville and Shelby county have formed a protective association to give mutual information and assistance in protecting themselves from unreliable persons who seek credit and then evade payment. An association of this character if lived up to in good faith would save the merchants hundreds of dollars annually and incidentally would be of a benefit to those who pay their bills promptly.

A Large Contract.

When W. S. Lloyd, the enterprising druggist, first offered a 50 cent package of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, and guaranteed to return the money if it did not cure, he thought it probable from his experience with other medicines for these diseases, that he would have a good many packages returned. But although he has sold hundreds of bottles, not one has been brought back.

This is so surprising that he has taken the contract to introduce Dr. Howard's specific in at least half the homes in Mt. Sterling, and to do that he will continue his special half price introductory offer.

W. S. Lloyd wants every person in Mt. Sterling who has constipation, dyspepsia, headaches or liver trouble to come to his store or send W. S. Lloyd 25 cents by mail and get 50 doses of the best medicine ever made at half the regular price, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. 7c-10c.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT.

The month of July was generally seasonable. There was never a better prospect for a full crop of corn at this season of the year. The condition is all that could be expected. The wheat crop is generally in good condition, up to the average and the quality good.

The oat crop was short and yield three-fourths. The prospects for barley tobacco is below the average and not up to the standard. The prospect for Dark is below the average. Meadows, pastures and clover are in fair condition. Live stock of all kinds in good condition and free from diseases. Hogs are scarce in many localities.

The apple crop is light and there is considerable complaint of many falling off before they mature.
